

My Breasts, My Choice is an innovative and intimate exploration of people's experience of breast and chest surgery through photography and storytelling. Participants who have had mastectomy, reconstruction, reduction, augmentation, gynaecomastia and other surgeries, share the emotional aspects of their choices, their relationships with health care professionals, reflections on body image, self-esteem, and the physical expression of personal identity. The project includes breast cancer survivors, transsexuals and transgendered people, and those seeking surgical intervention for health or personal reasons."

The Exhibit will be showing:
